FOREWORD

Realizing that such an attempt as this—to assemble the events, personalities and progress of the past year within the pages of a single volume—is of necessity futile and inadequate, we of the Indian staff of 1947-1948 sincerely hope that the life of Arkansas State College during the past two semesters has been here depicted as fully and as adequately as possible.

A yearbook is the mirror that catches and holds the fleeting moments of success, failure, joy and sadness to be reflected upon and profited by each individual in future years. The Indian will, we hope, act as your permanent mirror and reflector for the past year spent at Arkansas, State.

To all Arkansas State College students, and to freshmen in particular, the sight of Dr. Frank Willis Plunkett entering a classroom, shuffling down the hall or puffing furiously on a cigarette, is a very familiar one.

The little Doctor from Virginia via Texas and Arkansas will never be at a loss for friends among the thousands he has made during his eighteen years' of rapping on blackboards at freshman English students and Shakespearian scholars alike.

His vibrant personality and winning frankness soon set his visitor at ease and welcome the acquaintance. As Doc bustles about his office always busy with English Department affairs, anyone, anytime can interrupt him in search for advice or a helping hand.

It's to Doc, the grand little man of the English Department that we, members of the 1948 Indian staff, respectfully and admiringly dedicate this yearbook.

Typical action pictures of Dr. Plunkett in his daily activities are shown on these two pages.

A Message From Our President

Victory comes by way of initiative, strength of character and leadership.

Graduation is a victory of the mind and will power over educational processes and economic difficulties. It is an honor that justly comes to those who are willing to labor earnestly and diligently.

Today, Society demands educated men and women. Education is the foundation of liberty, the pursuit of happiness, and the democratic way of life. Our future depends on the direction it takes.

DR. J. WALTER TURNER, Dean of the College. Dean Turner, during his brief stay at Arkansas State, has won many friends from the student body as well as carried on his duties very efficiently and capably.

B. V. KEISTER, Registrar of the College. One of the most important functions in a College is the office of Registrar. Under the direction of Mr. Keister, Arkansas State's Registration Office has functioned smoothly and has greatly aided the immense growth of the College.

JOSEPH D. FARRAR, Dean of Men. Perhaps the hardest duties of any administrator befall the Dean of Men. He has to deal with students individually, answer complaints and questions as well as direct the social functioning of the College life. Dean Farrar's office is noted for its efficiency and friendliness in its dealings with the student body.

MRS. MARY ROGERS BROWN, Dean of Women. Comparable to the Dean of Men's difficulties are those belonging to the office of Dean of Women. Mrs. Brown, in her long service at Arkansas State, has demonstrated a fine ability and personal touch in overcoming the difficulties heir to her office.

It isn't quite as true any more, but it used to be said that every male student at ASC roomed at one time or another in old, tradition-bound Lewis Hall. One of the oldest buildings on the campus, Lewis has served its purpose well through the years and welcomes back old grads to whom it is a familiar landmark.

Fraternity

Delta Omega Sigma, the Pioneer and first social Greek letter Fraternity of Arkansas State College was founded in November, 1933. The Fraternity was built on the deep-rooted friendship that existed between five men students: W. F. DeLoche, Jr., Van Smith, E. L. Taliaferro, Jr., Charles Okey, and Bob Lindsey. Each realized that a five man fraternity would be short-lived and potentially worthless, and at no time was it remotely considered that the membership of the group should be confined to the original five. Rather, each felt that from the original circle, a larger group could be built, thus launching a permanent organization which would begin initiating new members as older ones became alumni.

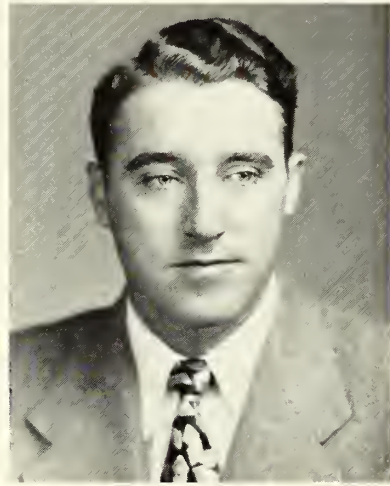

Fraternities were not permitted, at this time, on the campus, and for this reason Delta Omega Sigma could not function openly — all of which proved a handicap in selecting new members and having social functions off the campus. Charles Light and Leslie Speck were the next members selected, but by the fall of 1934 the membership had grown to the number of twenty, and plans were being made to petition the Board of Trustees for College recognition. On January 25, 1935 the petition was presented to the Board of Trustees, and on February 19, the following month, permission was granted by the Board of Trustees for the approval of Social Fraternities and Sororities to become active on the campus.

Activities of Delta Omega Sigma Fraternity for the year 1947 to 1948 were: Annual Summer Convention, Annual Fall Smoker, Pledges Dinner, Homecoming Dance, Sunrise Breakfast, Annual Spring Formal, and dinner meetings.

Since February 19, 1935, the date on which the College Board of Trustees granted approval of fraternities, Kappa Sigma Nu has been one of the outstanding organizations on the College campus.

Annual social events sponsored by the fraternity include a formal Christmas Dance immediately preceding the Christmas vacation, and a Coronation Ball in the spring, at which time the Coronation Queen is crowned.

Other functions of the organization include participation in extra-curricular activities of the College, smokers, dinner meeting, and an annual summer convention.

Zeta Tau Zeta Fraternity, the youngest social fraternity on the campus, was organized on February 10, 1937 and recently celebrated its eleventh anniversary with the fraternity's Dream Girl Dance.

Outstanding in intramural sports, the ZTZ boys have finished high up in the standings in basketball, volleyball, softball and touch football during the past season.

Originally the fraternity was organized to promote journalism scholarship and in keeping with this tradition the fraternity still presents an annual Journalism Award for the Number One journalism student of the year. This year the award was presented to James Brickell in honor of his outstanding work during four years at Arkansas State College. Zeta Tau also presents an Athletic Award which this year went to John B. Dickey.

Alpha Sigma Sorority was organized by eight girls on February 25, 1935. Dorothy Lea Lines of Wynne served as the first president while Mrs. Adelaide Roger Gafke was first sponsor.

The purpose of the organization is to further the aims of Arkansas State College by fostering social participation for the attainment of culture and by encouraging educational achievements.

Alpha Sigma's Anniversary Dance is the first formal dance of the year, at which time she introduces her new pledges.

A convention is held during the summer with a large number of actives and alumnae attending.

Annually Alpha Sigma awards on Honors Day a medal to the outstanding student in the music field. Each year a collection of books is presented to the library.

Alpha Tau Zeta sorority is the youngest social sorority on Arkansas State College campus, receiving its charter on March 3, 1937. Its purpose is to co-operate with Administration requests, to promote good citizenship among the girls on the campus, and to uphold the high standards of the College.

ATZ begins the year with an autumn tea for non-sorority girls and faculty members, soon followed by a sport dance which was a halloween masquerade ball this year. A formal anniversary dance is held each spring at which the outstanding senior man is presented. Each year on Honor's Day ATZ honors the outstanding Freshman student with a medal.

The first sorority on the campus, Delta Beta Chi, was founded on February 11, 1935, with the purpose of developing closer friendships, promoting social activities, and helping to make Arkansas State College a still greater institution. Mary Elizabeth (Hollan) Smith was the first president and Miss Martha Lou Lassiter, the first sponsor.

Each year Delta Beta Chi gives parties and picnics for her members and dances for the other Greek letter groups on the campus. The events most looked forward to are the Founder's Day formal banquet and dance in February and the summer convention in Memphis during June for members and alumnae. An active Alumnae Association which was organized this year is creating interest of the alumnae in these events and is helping to make them greater successes.

On Honors Day Delta Beta Chi gives an award to the best foreign language student of the year. Last year this award went to Janelle Sigsby.

The sponsor of the sorority is Mrs. F. W. England; Mrs. H. C. Manor, the co-sponsor. Patrons are: Miss Jean Condray, Mr. F. W. England, Miss Margaret Haydon, Miss Eleanor Lane, Dr. H. C. The Student Council was organized in 1947 as a modified form of student government. Its purposes are to help develop a stronger college spirit; to build understanding; and to deal with all problems, other than academic, in a parliamentary manner.

Since its beginning the council has dealt with such problems as choosing the editor and business manager of the INDIAN; freshman initiation; times of social functions; and such other problems as students brought for consideration.

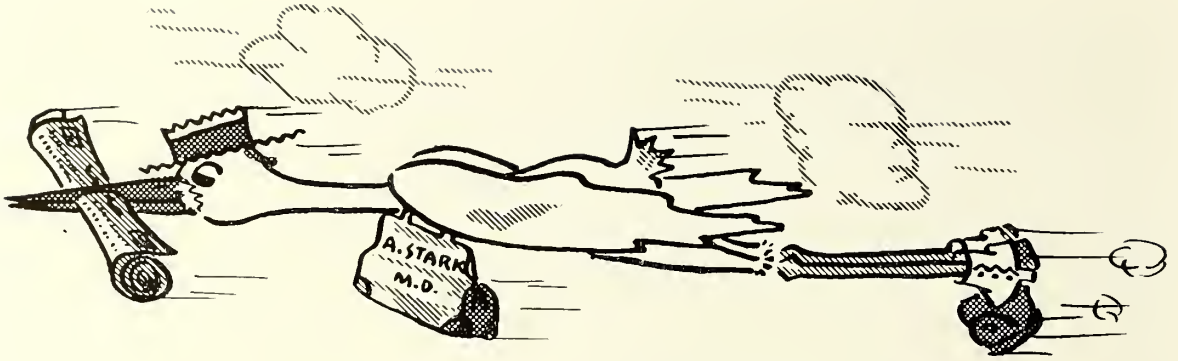

The council has taken a growing place as a real and contributing part of State College.

Well, the ole yearbook's out late again this year, but we hope you enjoy it anyway. It cost a lot of hard work, sweat, broken dates and headaches, and we sincerely hope it's worth it.

Satisfied printers stand around to admire their art as the Herald starts rolling off the presses. Steps not shown from the linotype to press include the setting of the type, preparing the forms, and proofing.

Confederate Air Force

Arkansas State College's most unusual organization — where every member is a full-fledged colonel — is the Confederate Air Force. Composed of licensed pilots as well as students, the group is dedicated to the furthering of the interests of aviation.

Activities of the group include technical discussions, social functions, and educational lectures. Last year the CAF made a flying picnic.

The Wesley Foundation is a student organization of all Methodist students and those interested in Methodism, seeking to provide for the spiritual, moral and social needs of the student. Each year the Northeast Conference sets aside a specific fund with which to carry on the work on this campus.

The club meets each Thursday evening, beginning with a fellowship supper. During the year, the organization brings to the campus speakers who are known for their work in the Methodist Church. Delegates are sent to the State Student Conference each year. Belle Tripp, president, was sent to the Regional Conference at Norman, Oklahoma this year.

The Masquers consist of students interested in any phase of Play Production and who have had some experience in Dramatics.

The Masquers, the first dramatics club to be organized at State in several years, met in October and elected officers. Two one-act plays were presented during the first semester and one three-act play during the second semester, under the direction of Mrs. Laura Haggard, sponsor of the club.

The club affords practical experience for students interested in this field; also, provides entertainment for the College students and drama fans of the campus community and Jonesboro.

Arkansas State College Choir

One of the best volunteer choirs in several years wore the gray and blue robes during the past season under the direction of Dr. Harold C. Manor, head of the Music Department. Besides making several chapel appearances, the singers took part in many extra-curricular programs.

Arkansas State College Band

Arkansas State College's Redskin band, under the capable direction of James L. Patty, made 1947-48 a banner season for the campus music organization by holding a high school band clinic as well as participating in a Northeast Arkansas tour of cities and high schools. Highlighting the season was the participation of the Arkansas State Band in the annual Memphis Cotton Carnival Parade.

The Band made several chapel appearances during the year before the State student body and took part in several programs.

Les Artistes is composed of students taking, or who have taken an art course. The aim of the club is to promote closer companionship among those students especially interested in this subject and to better acquaint them with the various fields of art.

Its meetings, held every second week, are devoted to numerous projects, discussions, movies, and slides often shown in connection with the language department. It also sponsors visiting exhibits several times during the year and visit art galleries in this section.

Each spring this group sponsors a formal art exhibit of student work during the graduation week.

The A. C. E. meets the first and third Wednesday in each month. The first meeting of the month is Parent's Night at which time the parents are invited to meet and discuss with the teachers the needs of children and the improvements in the teaching profession. The elementary departments of the training school are used for observation and trying out the different ideas of teaching.

Acquaintance hours are sponsored during the short summer sessions, and social functions are sponsored for the members throughout the year. Delegates are sent to the international meeting each year. Teachers "from the field" are brought in as speakers during the year to discuss problems of the profession.

MILITARY SCIENCE

The Military Science Department of Arkansas State College enjoyed in 1947-48 one of its most successful years since the R.O.T.C. unit has been established at the College. Under the guidance and direction of Colonel Sweany, the organization has revived in leaps and bounds from its dormant war-time status. The Arkansas State College R.O.T.C. unit's Excellent rating in the annual Fourth Army Area inspection was due in no small measure to the tireless efforts of Colonel Sweany and the Military Department staff.

Attesting to the growth of Military Science at Arkansas State College is the number of instructors added to the staff since 1945. The inclusion of Lt. Colonel Wilkins, Majors Rubel and Schroeder, and Lt. Elmore make the ASC Department one of the best staffed in the nation. These officers, together with the Department's complement of six top-notch non-commissioned officers, are dedicated here at State to the production of first-class officer material for the United States Army Reserve Corps.

Football Squad

With 65 candidates including 25 lettermen from which to form a team, Coach Forest W. "Frosty" England at the first called practice session on last September 1, set about to form what proved to be one of the best football elevens in the history of the College. Playing a rough nine game schedule, the Indians finished the season with an enviable record of four victories, two defeats and three ties for a season's percentage of .666.

The Tribe opened the '47 campaign with a smashing 25 to 0 victory over its old rivals, the Southeast Missouri State Braves of Cape Girardeau here on Saturday night, Sept. 27, and closed it with a crushing 45 to 0 win over Centre College's Praying Colonels of Danville, Ky., here on Saturday night, Nov. 22.

Highlights outside of the Redskins' impressive record of the past year included an upset victory over the powerful Pensacola Naval Air Training Station in a game played at Pensacola, Fla., and by playing to a scoreless tie with the strong Arkansas State Teachers College Bears in the annual Homecoming Day game on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25, in a sea of rain and mud.

Coach England will have most of the boys of last year's stellar team back to play this season and with them comes the promise of another top gridiron eleven for 1948.

EVERETT BOLTON, End

LEWIS HAYDEN, Halfback

Three of the key men who made the 1947 Indian football machine click are pictured on this page. Above left, veteran Everett Bolton of Jonesboro, probably the greatest end ever to don a Redskin uniform, leaps high into the air to snag an aerial in a typical action shot. The Jonesboro flanker was co-captain for last year's gridiron crew.

Above right, ace halfback Lewis Hayden sprints with the pigskin. A fine all-around player, the Piggott veteran sparked the Tribe to most of its victories in the first half of the season. Named co-captain of the squad with Bolton, Hayden was a steadying influence on the younger players and was the Tribe's top punter.

Howard "Choo-Choo" Powers, popular West Helena junior, was named the most valuable player of the 1947 Tribe. The hard-driving fullback is not the spectacular kind of player but a steady, reliable ground-gainer whose hard blocking made possible many of the more crowd-pleasing plays.

Below is a list of the results of the nine games played by the Indians last season and the statistics of the campaign.

Games Won—4; Games Lost—2; Games Tied—3; Pct.—.666

HOWARD POWERS, Fullback

A vital factor in the showing of any kind of athletic team is the backing of the student body in the form of a good, enthusiastic pep squad or cheering section. Everett Bolton lugs the pigskin on an end-around for a big gain against State Teachers. The game ended in 0-0 tie.

John Kornegay of State Teachers' Bears leaps high in the air to snag a pass intended for Indian Keith Doane in Homecoming battle.

Ace halfback Lewis Hayden swivel-hips his way for yardage against the Pensacola Navy Goslings. State won, 7-6.

The Tribe Travels

Off for Florida! Sleepy Redskins pile into a chartered bus on an early morning start for the land of the Everglades to tangle with Pensacola Navy.

Indian pigskinners relax and shoot the breeze during the big haul southward.

Soups' on! Arkansas State's hungry football warriors tear into Southern cooking at Mobile, Alabama.

To Sunny Florida

The Indians yawn and stretch after a good night's snooze in front of their Navy barracks.

Game time! Redskins scatter out on blocking assignments while top State tosser, Lewis Hayden, fades out of picture for a long one. The State crew topped the Goslings, 7-6 on Joe Shaw's placekick.

Z-z-z-z-z-z-z-z. Weary and fatigued, the Redskins lie back and grab forty on the long road homeward.

Ev Bolton gobbles up the yardage on another end around against Monticello's Bollweevils. State plastered the Weevils, 27-0.

Right half-back V. V. Shearburn chugs goalward against the Cape Girardeau Tribe. Indians in white jerseys this time, won 25-0.

Bill Perry, reserve end, takes up where Bolton left off on the end around, picking up ground against Pensacola.

In a fine action shot, Lewis Hayden gets set to drive the leather for distance as Indian linemen give him plenty of time.

Basketball

Playing the most rugged schedule ever undertaken by an Arkansas State College basketball team, the 1948 Indian quintet met, defeated, and was beaten by some of the nation's greatest cage teams.

The Tribe played a total of 25 games. Significant in their seven wins, was a 78 to 53 win over the Ole Miss Rebels in the College Gymnasium on the night of February 18. Among the strong teams that beat the Redskins was the University of Arkansas Razorbacks who won by a 76 to 59 score after the ASC "5" had led for half the game.

Paul Mason drops in a free one for the Indians against Southwestern's Lynx in a close game copied by the Tribe.

Maurice Miller, State's ace center, craps in two in a fine action shot taken during the Southwestern contest.

Benny Wilhelm, ASC's leading scorer, outfoxes two University of Arkansas cagers to drop in two points.

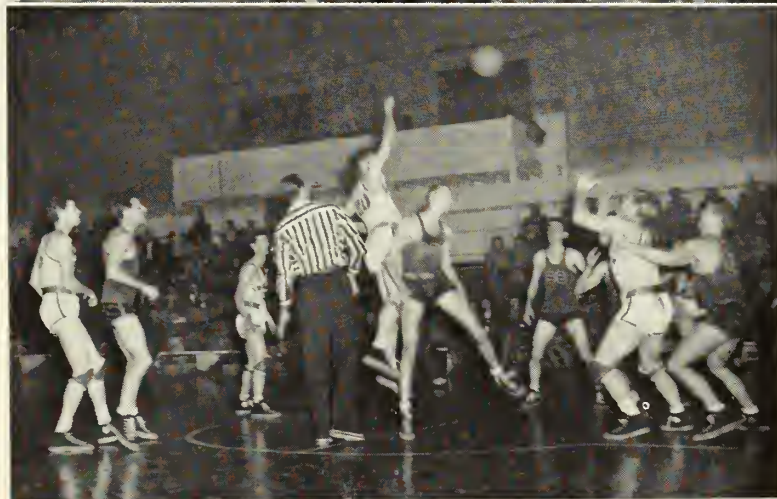

Maurice Miller fires a charity toss for a single marker against the Razorbacks. The Indians extended the University basketballers all the way before dropping the game.

It's Miller again as the tall ASC pivot man blocks a hook shot by his opposite number for the Razorbacks, towering George Kok.

Benny Wilhelm gets ready to receive the tip from Miller as the Indians get ready to roll.

Track

Coach Harold (Nick) Nichols' Arkansas State College track team brought home the first state championship in the College's history when they defeated eight Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference squads in the first post-war renewal of the state diadem.

Piling up a record of five wins against only two losses, the Indian thinlies enjoyed by far the best track season of any ASC squad. Victories were scored over the Arkansas State Teachers College Bears, Memphis State, Southeast Missouri State, in dual meets; Memphis State, Southwestern, in triangular affair; and eight AIC schools in the state meet. The team's only two losses were to Ole Miss in the season's opening meet, and to Southwest Missouri State in a close battle in mid-season.

The above squad picture contains the 1947 squad members. A photo of the State Champion 1948 squad was not available when the sports section of the annual went to press.

Wrestling

In a unique grappling shot, two ASC matmen, Robert Manns and Tom Carmody mix it up between halves of a basketball game.

Under the direction of Coach Harold J. "Nick" Nichols, the Arkansas State College Indians have gone into amateur wrestling in a big way, winning the state championship along with another tourney in St. Louis against national opposition. Amateur grunt and groan is being popularized at State and "Nick" expects many new grapplers out for the mat sport this coming season.

Baseball

The Arkansas State College baseball team, under the direction of Athletic Director-Coach J. A. (Ike) Tomlinson, played the most extensive schedule of any previous ASC diamond team.

In 18 games against top-flight schools of the Mid-south the Redskins hung up 10 wins against eight losses. The Tribe opened the campaign by swamping the Valparaiso Crusaders in a double-header on the College diamond. After dropping their first game to the crack Iowa Hawkeyes, the Redskins came back to down Southern Illinois University, and the Clarksdale, Miss., Planters of the Class C Cotton States League in three successive contests.

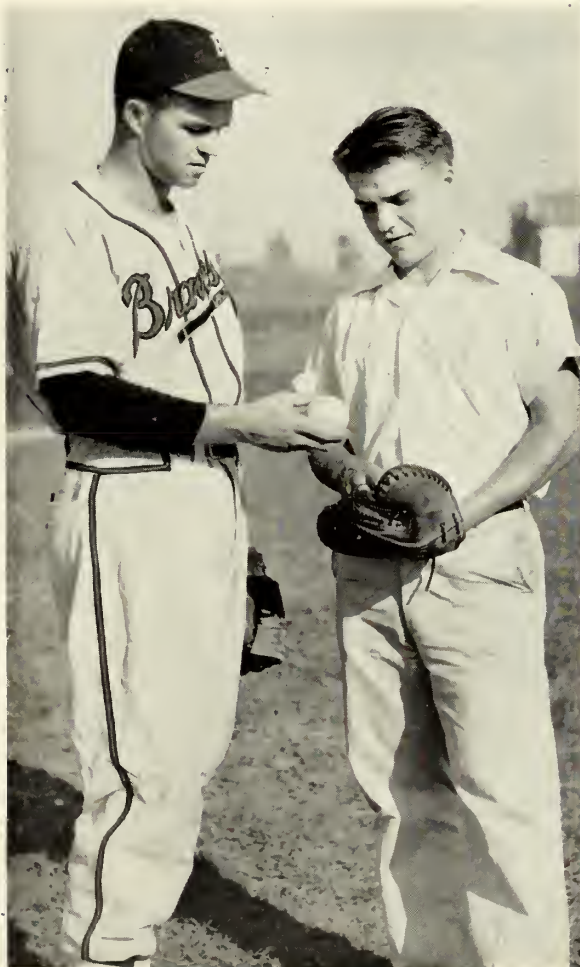

Memphis NATTC fell before the Tribe's big bats and superior pitching before Delta State handed the Tomlinson nine its second defeat of the season. State evened the count with Delta the next day however, but fell before Memphis State in the following contest. The Indians downed SIU in a return game here, but were defeated by Murray State a few days later.

Probably the game the Indians hated to lose most of all was a 4 to 3, 13-inning struggle to old Redskin rivals — the Arkansas State Teachers College Bears. The Tribe beat Delta State again, and tripped Memphis State for its ninth and tenth victories. Murray State, Memphis NATTC, and State Teachers handed the Redmen their final three defeats.

All-in-all the Indians played what is considered as a creditable season, winning ten of 18 games for a .556 season average.

Right, Big Bob Appleby, ace southpaw of the Redskin diamond crew last year, lets go a high hard one during warm-up practice. The bespectacled lefty served 'em up for the Jonesboro Red Sox and Memphis Chicks of the Southern Association last year when he finished his hurling chores for the Redskins' winning baseball nine.

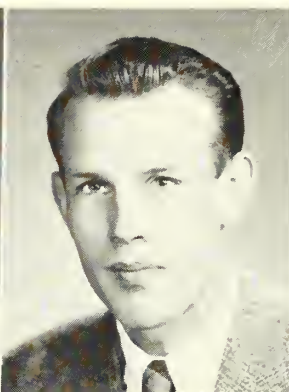

Johnny Sain, ace major league pitcher for the Boston Braves of the National League, was a sports celebrity visitor on the Arkansas State College campus last October 9. Sain is shown above (at left) chatting with Ray Saunches, a catcher for the ASC baseball team for the past two seasons. Sain held a brief workout with Saunches before a large gathering of State students on the afternoon of October 9.

Arkansas State's first tennis team since before the war didn't have a banner year last season, but they got the sport going again under the Indian banner and hope for bigger things next year. Under the direction of Forrest W. "Frosty" England, the racquetters went up against heavy opposition in intercollegiate ranks and didn't fare too well although the experience gained will make next year's Indian netsters a hard crew to handle. Coach John Rauth is slated to take over the tennis coaching duties next year.

Countless hours of precious time have gone into the assembling of materials, the make-up and editing of this yearbook.

Quality printing is only one of many things that can compensate for the long hours devoted to its production. But it is certainly a necessary attribute of a successful book.

Outstanding yearbooks require quality printing and has the personnel and equipment necessary in producing the finest kind of printing — including an organization which has had 20 years experience in producing really fine books.

THE HURLEY COMPANY, INC.
CAMDEN, ARKANSAS
